CENTENARY COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA

"One of the Nation's Best Colleges"
U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT

"One of the Best Buys in Education"
THE NEW YORK TIMES

From The President

Only rose-colored glasses could have made the start of '85/86 appear propitious; yet the academic year turned out to be a highroad for the college!

But back to last summer. In July, the state abolished all financial support both for independent colleges and for the P.I.P.s program, decimating our budget and cutting 500 public school teachers from our enrollment. Salaries were frozen, and yet another 5% chopped from expenditures. The budget called for us to raise the largest annual fund in the College's history—in the midst of a collapsing energy market and a distressed local economy. Hardly utopia!

Yet the year became a joyous and robust one in Centenary's life! Both the quality of the faculty and the fiscal sanity of the college were nationally recognized by two leading publications. U.S. News & World Report ranked us among America's best colleges; and The New York Times listed us among the "Best Buys in College Education." Perhaps more notable than either, late in the year, Centenary was for the third consecutive time selected for inclusion in Peterson's Competitive Colleges, as among the top 17% (315) of those American colleges and universities with the most challenging admissions situations.

It was a highroad academically. For example, last year's complete restructuring of the curriculum now was put to the test: it is all we hoped and planned for. The M.B.A. program—strong, imaginative, innovative, utterly practical—simply took off, and now has a waiting list; the new graduate courses in geology are not far behind. Faculty members delivered more than a dozen papers at professional meetings—two of Dr. Earle Labor's were even translated into Chinese! Our English honorary, Sigma Tau Delta, was recognized as one of the five outstanding chapters in America. All three full-time professors in the Department of Religion were named in Who's Who.

There were other blithe aspects. The College received the Community Council Award. Over 400 adults enrolled in our Senior Adult Education Classes. Homecoming attracted more alums than any in a decade—and alum financial support climbed toward the 20% mark. The Frost Foundation pledged $900,000 to renovate Jackson Hall. The Brown family announced their intention of building a $1 million "President's Scholarship Endowed Fund." Our three epitomies of radiant muliebrity—the Centenary Women's Club, the Muses, and the Women's Endowment Quorum—each contributed significantly to Centenary's improvement. And stock appreciations in our Quasi Fund enabled us, after all, to give all faculty and staff a 3% bonus.

More Bicentennial Scholars came to Centenary than to almost any other college. Our voice students swept the state competition—and the choir swept the Europeans off their feet! Although such impressions are hard to objectify statistically, to us who have spent decades in higher education, this seemed to be an excellent generation of students.

Dr. Donald Webb, 33rd President of Centenary College

Obviously, this list of lows and highs is not exhaustive; each member of the Centenary family can add other plusses and minusses, steps forward and falls back. And, some of the problems detailed at the beginning of my report remain serious and will lie heavy upon us for months to come.

But it was a fine year in Centenary's life. The faculty has never been stronger, the churches more supportive, the campus more beautiful—or the endowment (over $26 million) more heartening! How was it the old Latin tag went? —"Per ardua, ad astra!" Through difficulties, to the stars. Just so.

Donald A. Webb.

Donald A. Webb,
President

CENTENARY AND THE CHURCH

As an institution of the United Methodist Church, Centenary is committed to nurturing in its students an awareness and appreciation for the values of the Judeo-Christian tradition with its emphasis on the dignity of the individual, its reverence for truth, and its compassionate understanding of human weaknesses and aspirations.

President Donald Webb shares a light moment with Bishop Walter Underwood, whose photograph hangs in the College Board Room, along with Dr. Webb's and that of George D. Nelson, Chairman of the Board.

Centenary's Office of Church Relations serves as a liason with at least three groups of Louisiana Methodists: ministers, youth, and adult lay persons. During the year, events and activities are held throughout the state to serve them, and to foster the co-ministry of this church-related college and its Alma Mater, the college-related Conference.

For example, in mid November, 24 United Methodist Youth traveled to Shreveport to attend a recruiting event, "Discover Centenary." This overnight excursion was designed to give young people and their coordinators an opportunity to visit the campus and discover the unique relationship between the Church and higher education. In an effort to give students an accurate picture of campus life here at Centenary, participants attended classes and visited with students and faculty.

A Leadership Council was formed in December and will meet once a year on or near its anniversary date. The 14 members will work within the Louisiana Conference to strengthen the relationship of the College and the Church. Its members include Bishop Walter Underwood and President Donald Webb; George Nelson, Chairman of Centenary's Board of Trustees; key chairpersons and Cabinet liaisons, and top College administrators.

The Church Council, with a rotating membership, continues to meet once a year to strenghten the partnership of the College and the Conference, and to assist in recruiting, scholarship development, and continuing education. A highlight of the Church Council year was the Centenary Celebration in Alexandria complete with bands, balloons, and bravado.

Competition was keen for the 1986 Bishop's Awards presented at "Centenary! Night" Monday, June 2, in the Gold Dome. The awards, originated by Bishop Walter Underwood, are presented to the small, medium, and large churches which have the most students attending Centenary College. This year's winners were the churches of Gilliam, and Mangum, Broadmoor and First of Shreveport with the latter two tied in the large-church category. A silver trophy was presented to each winning minister along with a $1,000 scholarship to Centenary and a brass credit card entitling the bearer to entrance at all cultural, academic, and athletic events at Centenary for the 1986-87 academic year.

Decimal giving from the Churches totalled $451,600. Some $234,541 was contributed to old and new Church-related scholarships, the new ones including the Shannon Brown Memorial Endowed Scholarship; the Virginia Davis Laskey Endowed Scholarship; the Doug McGuire Scholarship (Faith United Methodist Church, West Monroe); The Rev. Lynn Potter Scholarship, the Bentley Sloane CSCC Award, and the Wilfred K. Scroggin Ministerial Education Fund.

Over 140 years with Centenary College is represented by these members of the Centenary family who have each served 35 years or more with the College. They are (left to right) Betty McKnight Speairs H78, Levail Stewart, Edmond Parker, and William C. Teague. On special occasions Mrs. Speairs wears Dr. Mary Warter's academic gown, and Mr. Parker wears the robe the late Dr. Bryant Davidson wore. Talk about legends!

Congratulating Edwin Whited '43 on his honorary doctorate degree conferred at Commencement are his daughter and wife, both named Mary Amelia. A longtime friend of Centenary College, Mr. Whited lists among his achievements the establishment of both the College's School of Business and the annual fund, The Great Teachers-Scholars Fund. In February, Mr. Whited pledged $900,000 from the Frost Foundation to renovate Jackson Hall for the School of Business.

FRIENDS

Many thanks to non-alumni donors who gave $1 - $160 to the Great Teachers-Scholars Fund, 1985-86.

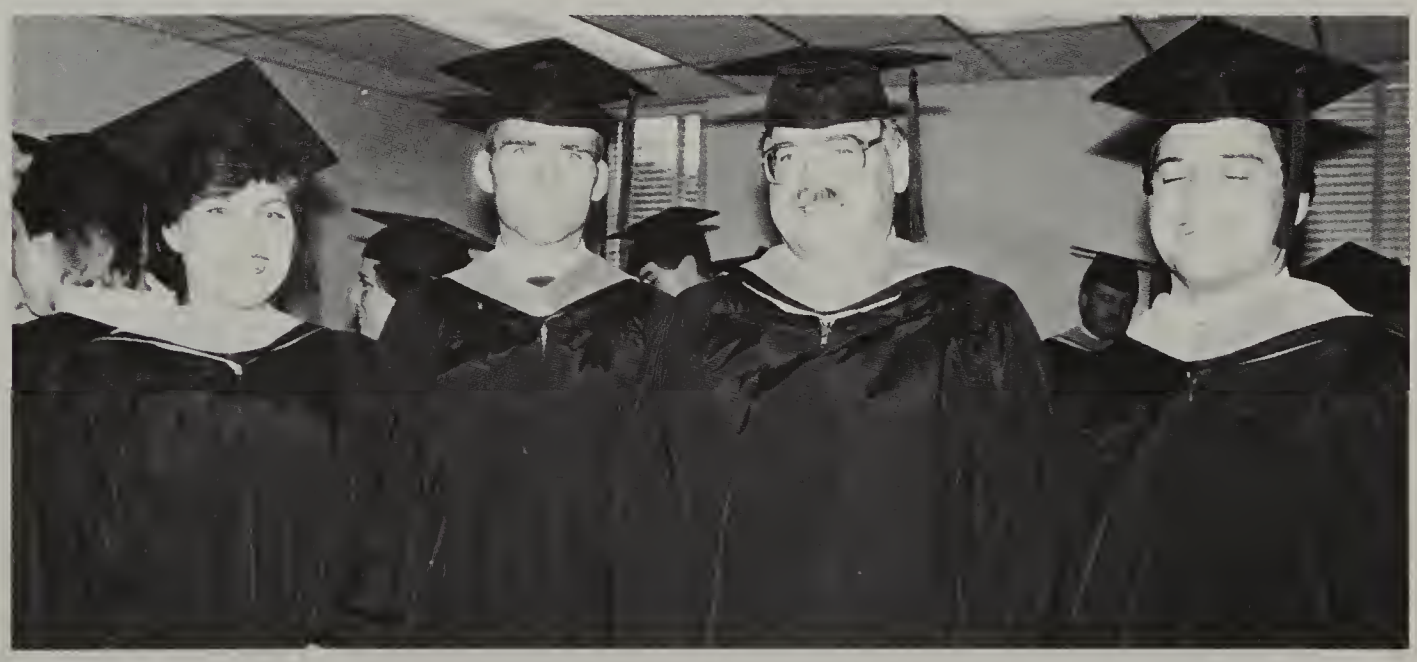
Dr. Lee Ford was a special guest at Founders' Day Convocationi in April. He taught French at Centenary from 1929-1961. With Mrs. Ford, he visits the campus as often as possible.



Centenary's new executive MBA program, under the direction of Dr. Barrie Richardson, Dean of the School of Business, graduated its first four students last May. They include (left to right) Ann G. Bailey, Carlyle W. Rogers, Jr., Robert G. Robbins, and Michael Alan Murray. Enrollment in the very successful program is at capacity, and there is a waiting list.

Plan now to attend:
